Interim & Fractional CTO

Overview

Our Product & Technology practice provides clients with simple and affordable access to the best IT executive talent and teams on-demand, including fractional and interim CTOs, CIOs and CiSOs.

Purpose

Many businesses do not need a full-time CTO, but all companies do need the strategy, experience, and vision that an experienced CTO provides. TechCXO provides a proven, effective vehicle to bring that skill-set and knowledge to an organization.

How it Works

TechCXO will identify the best individuals from our network that match all components of what you are looking for. Based on your meetings with the individuals and all additional information TechCXO has provided you, select the CTO/CIO that is right for you.

Many Types of CTOs

Our CTO models range from a couple of days a month to five days a week and include:

Fractional/Part-Time CTO: Use only the hours you need for the duration you need, fill the gaps, or ensure a key project is online.

Interim CTO: Temporarily replace a departing full-time CTO.

Experienced Mentor: We support an IT Director or manager who needs some expertise to set up decision-making tools or other aspects of technology.

Comprehensive Services

We are accomplished in all aspects of IT, Product & Technology. TechCXO interim CTOs are very experienced in a variety of situations and can help a company avoid costly mistakes within the operations and financial aspect of technology. Services include:

Tech Assessments: Need tech due diligence before making an investment? Have concerns about the viability of your product or the effectiveness of your development team? Our CTOs can quickly evaluate your product and team to identify risks and shortcomings.

Product Rescue / Execution: Whether you need help implementing the recommendations from an Assessment or getting a product and product team launched, our CTOs can help, up to an including leading product delivery teams.

Fractional / Interim CTO: If you are not ready to hire a full-time CTO, you are in the process of transitioning to a new CTO, or you have a less experienced CTO who needs some coaching, a TechCXO CTO can provide the expert technical leadership your organization needs.

CiSO-As-a-Service: For businesses in need of a high-level of security, our unique CiSO service model is affordable and integrated into your operations.
